For inclusion in our collection, please confirm that your book meets the following guidelines:

- You are a resident of the Lower Mainland, or were a resident of the Lower Mainland when the book was published, or the book must be about the Lower Mainland. Independently published works that do not meet these criteria will be considered for inclusion in the regular collection.
- The book has been published within the last 3 years.
- The book meets acceptable proofreading, professional quality formatting, and preparation standards. For print books, the book must be bound in a format appropriate for library circulation (eg. no 3 ring binding, coil, stapled pages, etc.).
- The book does not contravene Canadian law.
- The book is not already in our collection.

Once submitted, Collections Services staff will assess your book for inclusion in our collection based on our collection development policies.

If your book is not added to the collection, you will be able to pick it up at the Surrey Libraries branch of your choice. We are unable to return items by mail.

We receive a substantial volume of materials, so please allow several weeks for a response to your submission.

Please note that we will accept one copy per title. We monitor our collection closely and will purchase additional copies if needed.
